BREED THEATER. Terrible Discovery, Biograph Thrilling Feature.

The bill at the Breed today provides one of the most thrilling features now before the American public the title being A Terrible Discovery, the plot of which is as follows: Taunted by the gang over the conviction of his brother by the district attorney. Dick awears to make the attorney suffer. His plan is a novel one, which might have succeeded but for the daring of the law-rest 10 year old son. Dick disguises himself as an old woman and owing to the attorney's benevolent nature. Dick finds it easy to gain entrance into the laware is in the house with only the boy, who is in his own soom on the second from It looks for a time that Dick which is as follows: Taunted by the rise. It looks for a time that Dick will be successful in perpetrating his dire design, but the hoy suggests that he father lower him from a window by means of a rope. WHAT THE CHIMNEY SANG.

Cver the chimney the night-wind sang And chanted a melody no one knew, and the woman stopped, as her babe she toseed, And thought of the one she had long since lost, and said, as her teardrops back she forced, "I hate he wind in the chimney,"

Over the chimney the night-wind sang.
And chanted a melody no one knew.
And the children said, as they closed drew.
"The same witch that is cleaving the black night through?
"Tis a fairy trumper that just then blow.
